“You are not just harmonizers, you are dream weavers. Every one of your songs tells a story, creates a feeling or takes me to a place.” – Andy, Waimea

Their story began in 2013, when Gary was performing in California, and Anjalisa began harmonizing, full voice, from the audience. They sang some more, and very soon they and everyone within earshot realized that they would be making lots of music together. In honor of the way they met, they began with the name Voice Recognition.

“Chicken Skin..beautiful harmonies, interesting songs, impressive scat singing. Your two voices are so perfect together ... your harmonies were so pure they almost sounded like one intricate voice.” – Matt, Hawaii

They began to tour steadily in Hawaii and on the West Coast, from Southern California up to Seattle, giving house concerts and public shows of their original, uplifting, sophisticated music. They have touched audiences deeply.

*“I cried Bhakti tears, tears of love ... your harmonies of yin and yang were incredible.” —
Condor, Kona*

Their first CD, Summer, came out in August 2014, and in December 2014 they released Extended Play, a four-song EP with multilayered harmonies.

“Listening to Summer over and over again got me through a winter in Missouri. Thank you, Anjalisa and Gary, for raising the energy level of the planet.” — Suzy, St. Louis

In 2015, they were chatting with a stranger, when suddenly she lit up and said, “Oh, I know you, you’re the harmony people! My friends were telling me how great your concert was.” They drove away elated, knowing that fate had just tapped them on the shoulder and gifted them their new name. They are now The Harmony People.
